Are pleased to announce
The opening in February 2011 of a new MA program in Public Policy

לימודי פיתוח קהילות - Glocal Community-Development Studies

This interdisciplinary program offers the latest research, theories and practical skills related to the work of international non governmental organizations in impoverished communities.

The program will be taught in English and includes a semester-long on-site internship with an international NGO. It extends over four consecutive semesters (including summer semester). The first cohort will begin studies in February 2011 and will complete them in April 2012.

If you are a highly motivated, socially engaged graduate of a BA program who...

- Has completed her/his studies with an average grade of 85 (A-) or more
- Is a fluent speaker of English
- Has demonstrated commitment to communal and/or international development

.... you are welcome to apply!

Qualified applicants will be invited to an interview.
